RINGSTER FORECASTS THE TICKET

Says the Meeting Saturday
Will Have But Little
To Do.

EVERYTHING IS FIXED.

Slate Has Taken Care of All the Candidates Who Didn't Want a Primary.

Our friend "Ringster" who gave our readers so many inside facts in the last county campaign, has kindly agreed to keep the Kentuckian posted again this year. As he has the entry to all caucuses, he is able to know just exactly what is going on. Below we give his report of what the committee will do Saturday:

Ringster's Report.

Since the committee adjourned about ten days ago, the boys have put their heads together and now have things fixed on a basis that will not "bust the bank," as it did in 1901. You can bet your sweet life there will be no $5 primary this time. The latest scheme now is to let the committee name the nominees for the principal offices, the candidates by a series of combinations having agreed among themselves who shall have the nominations. The committee is to see that the nominations agreed upon are not interfered with by outsiders. Some of the candidates have been set aside without their consent and others have withdrawn to take deputies places.

The plan now is to force Judge James Breathitt to take the nomination, or appointment, for county Judge in the interest of "harmony."

Mat Starling and Alex. Anderson are to harmonize on this basis. All that is needed is Judge Breathitt's consent.

Charlie Prose is to be county attorney, under an arrangement by which Otho Anderson gets off. Judge Fowler, mentioned for both of these offices, has concluded that the pace is set too lively for him and he bows himself out.

Gabe Campbell is to be county clerk with Will Wicks as deputy. Bob Cook is a receptive candidate for anything that is left.

Stanley Long is to be representative and Jim Rogers is to be given the horse laugh, after two terms of faithful service. This, too, while Jim is away at Frankfort.

The Tate-Goley or Goley-Tate combination is to have the sheriff's office, in spite of Bro. Barnes' vigorous protests.

Miss Katie McDaniel is to be set aside and the office of county superintendent given to Will Gray, of Crofton, over whom she was nominated in a primary four years ago.

Nobody wants the Coroner's office except Jim Allensworth. In order to satisfy the clamor of the boys on the outside, the committee may let the candidates for jailer run it out in a primary, which it is believed can be held for a few thousand dollars.

Esq. Tom Williamson, Wyatt Watt, col., and Martin Van Buren Russel, col., are after this juicy plum, with a residence in the new furnace heated jail. Or they may decide to let Lem Davis name the jailer, in which event the committee will choose John Marquess, a nice looking young fellow from East's School House.

BECKHAM AND BLACKBURN STILL AT IT.

Governor Beckham Takes Another Whack at the Senator.

SENATOR CALLS NAMES.

Both Parties Announce That The Controversy Is Now Closed.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 23.—Gov. Beckham issued his second statement today in answer to Senator Blackburn's recent card. It is a strong and very bitter document in which the Governor says that Blackburn is utterly unworthy of the confidence of the people of Kentucky and should not be returned to the senate. Gov. Beckham announces that he will support some other man for senator and will do all that he can for the election of some other man than Blackburn.

Senator Blackburn, in an interview, said he would issue no further statement, but used this vigorous language about the Governor:

"His latest effusion but emphasizes his inability to tell the truth. If he is content to rest under the charge of being a falsifier I cannot afford to notice him further, but must leave him to the judgement of many men and decent people."

TRAMP PATIENT

Goes Through Smallpox Hospital and Escapes.

A tramp giving his name as Collier, appeared at the city hospital Saturday night with a case of smallpox and was taken in for treatment. He was given a bed in a room with other patients. Tuesday morning he was missing and so were numerous articles belonging to the officials and other patients. About $14 in money was taken, a watch belonging to Supt. Rose and an overcoat, besides smaller items. Nobody knew when the stranger left and as he failed to give his destination, it is not known where he is. He claimed to be from Evansville, when he pulled up in Hopkinsville. Dr. Woodward, the health officer, was touched for his hospital overalls and overshoes.

COLLEGE BURNED.

Roger Williams University
Destroyed by Fire.

Roger Williams University, Nashville, one of the largest schools for negroes in the South, was practically destroyed by fire Tuesday night, and the portion not burned was so badly damaged that it will be almost worthless. There were 225 students, about eighty of whom were girls. The loss to the university was about $60,000, and to individuals about $8,000. The university losses are covered by insurance. The property is owned by the American Baptist Home Mission Society.

SCHOOL IS OUT

And The Children Will Have An Entertainment.

Mrs. J. B. Fisher will close her school at the Major schoolhouse, near the city, on the Cadiz pike, tomorrow night. There will be appropriate closing exercises to which the public is invited. The program is an interesting one and the children are expected to acquit themselves with great credit to themselves and their efficient teacher.

Prof. C. H. Dietrich is here on a visit to his family.

OPPORTUNITY LOST.

Bishop Fallows Says Czar
Could Easily Averted Clash.

Chicago, Jan. 25. "I think the Czar has lost the golden opportunity of his life," said Bishop Fallows. "From all I can learn it is not a mere mob that gathered, but the people themselves. If the Czar had shown himself and spoken a few words or signified his willingness to receive the petition which was being carried to him, he could have averted the fearful bloodshed and occupied a right attitude before the whole world."

"No monarch in this enlightened age can trample on the right of petition. That is a sacred right of all peoples. From all I can gather, the movement is the beginning of a revolution for human rights in Russia. A proper constitutional government will be the inevitable outcome of this sanguinary conflict."

FALLING SLATE

Crushed to Death Colored
Miner of Crofton.

George Dulin, a colored coal miner, of Crofton, was killed in the Nortonville Coal Company's mine yesterday morning by falling slate.

The negro went into a condemned section of the mine, although, it is said, the mine boss had warned him of the danger of working in that portion of the mine. Fellow miners heard the falling slate, and when they went to where Dulin had been at work they found his dead body, badly crushed.

He was about 25 or 30 years old and was raised near Crofton. He had been at work in the mine several months.

MET DEATH

Madisonville, Ky., Jan. 24.—John Bell met a terrible death this morning at Slaughterville by being mangled by car wheels. He was flagman on a passenger accommodation train on the L. & N. R. R. between Evansville, Ind., and Providence, Ky. He was thrown under the train in attempting to get off while it was moving.

Old Officers Re-elected.

The directors of the R. T. Martin Greenville Tobacco Manufacturing Company, at a meeting held here Saturday, re-elected the old officers for the year 1905.

BARNES BRIEFS.

Batch of Items Furnish by "Honey Bee."

The "Honey Bee" are all very handy little things.

Miss Dora King left Monday to teach a school in the Harland neighborhood.

The weather has been so bad for the past few days that about all the people could do was to take fire.

Master Robert Foster is visiting his grandfather near here.

Very little tobacco has been sold in this neighborhood.

The farmers have done little fallowing for the next crop. The ground was too dry before Christmas and since the first of the year there has been too much rain and snow for such work.

Henry Haddock gave a party during the holidays and his three sons have broken out with the smallpox. The neighborhood is scared up considerably over the prevalence of the disease.

Stock is in good condition. Corn is plentiful and is selling at from $1.50 to $2 per barrel.

The members of Ford's Chapel, near here, extended a call to their old pastor, Rev. H. C. Ford, for this year. He has accepted and will preach his first sermon the fifth Sunday in the month. Bro. Ford helped organize Ford's Chapel and preached the first sermon in the church.

Unusual Resemblances.

It is a matter of common knowledge that when a husband and wife have lived together for a long period they not only acquire the same traits of voice and manner, but they show a strong facial resemblance, so that they might easily be taken for brother and sister. Almost every one has at least one such instance among his acquaintances. But it is perhaps a less well known fact that a similar resemblance often results from a mistress and servant being associated together for a long period of years. Added to the fact of constant nearness, there is usually on the part of the servant a desire to imitate the voice and manner of the mistress she so much admires. And this often extends to the facial resemblance. There are in a small provincial town in New England two most unusual instances of this resemblance. Two maiden ladies live there, each of whom has been attended for the greater part of fifty years by a woman who is more a companion than a servant. In both cases the women have become so astonishingly like their mistresses that they are often mistaken for them. And their voices over the telephone are so exactly like that the friends of both ladies have given up this means of communication with them because of the embarrassing mistakes which constantly resulted from it.

TEXAS FRUIT LANDS

Produce Early Crops which Bring Fancy Prices

In Texas they begin shipping berries in April, tomatoes in May, peaches in June, bringing fancy prices up North.

The growing season is much longer than in the North—a chance to make two and three crops, reducing the expenses of "getting through" the winter.

Fruit and truck from the Cotton Belt Route are very cheap as yet—$10 to $15 an acre unimproved. When put to orchard or truck they can be made to yield $100 to $200 per acre and more.

Besides, it's an ideal climate—no long, cold winters. Write for booklet on fruit and truck growing.

Resinol Art Calendar.

The new Resinol Art Calendar for 1905 is one of the most beautiful calendars ever issued. Six sheets of heavy enameled paper contain on one side six beautiful color designs of babies and children, while on the reverse side are drawings depicting child life with spaces for the notation of baby's "sayings and doings." It is a work of art that will delight a mother's heart. Sent postpaid by the Resinol Chemical Company, of Baltimore, Md., for two wrappers from Resinol Soap, or one wrapper and 15 cents; or for 40 cents a calendar and a cake of Resinol Soap will be sent.

AT OWENSBORO

Kentucky's Convention of Young Men Will be Held Next Week.

We have before us a copy of the announcement of the twenty-seventh annual State Convention of the Kentucky Young Men's Christian Association, to be held in the city of Owensboro, Feb. 16-19, 1905. These conventions are always looked forward to with great interest, and attract wide recognition throughout the State because of their large representation of men from all parts of the State and the strong program presented. Among the speakers for this convention are:

President F. W. Hinnett, D. D., Danville; Frank H. Burt, Chicago; S. D. Gordon, Cleveland; C. C. Kitchner, Geo. J. Fisher, A. G. Knebel, Geo. B. Hodge, Tom Keeman, New York City; E. W. Peck, State Secretary, Minnesota; President J. C. Acheson, Danville, and other representative men of the State. The music will be in charge of E. W. Peck, of Minnesota, and he will have the assistance of the Henderson Male Chorus and the Boys' Orchestra of the Louisville Association.

There are to be several new and important features of the Convention this year which will add largely to its efficiency.

1st—Three Normal Bible Classes taught by three expert instructors, each class to meet three times during the convention.

2d—A State Gymnasium and Athletic Contest participated in by the delegates.

3d—The Association Exhibit will be given a place of prominence and will be very helpful to every student of the Association movement.

4th—A Womens' Committee Conference will be held in connection with the convention and attended by delegates from the several Womens' Committees throughout the State. The educational, social, physical and religious departments of the Association work will be discussed under the leadership of men who are among the Association's best experts in the country. There will be special conferences—city, railroad, student, county—at which some of the problems in these departments will be thoroughly discussed.

Large delegations from the 79 Association of the State are expected this year at Owensboro. In addition to these, men members of evangelical churches in communities where there are no Associations, and who are interested in Christian work for young men are invited to attend and participate in the convention as corresponding members. A limited delegation of not over five from such a community will be entertained by the citizens of Owensboro, providing application for credentials, giving name and address of pastor or clerk of church, is sent to the State Secretary by February 10th.

The railroads of the State have given a rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip.

For program of the Convention, information about credentials, etc., inquire at the local Association, or address Henry E. Rosevear, State Secretary, Third and Broadway, Louisville.

TO OUR FARMER FRIENDS . . . .

Clarksville, Tennessee, January 3rd, 1905.—This crop of tobacco, being of better quality and shorter in average yield, are two reasons for expecting better prices. Besides, full confidence as to the final outcome, may be based upon the wise conclusion of the farmer to prize and put his tobacco in condition to hold for the best demands, only to be found on the open market. The force of combines, who have ignored open markets in order to fix lower prices in the country is broken, and we predict an era of greater prosperity will come to tobacco growers. The farmers will not regret the move they have made, and the more compact their organization, the greater their influence.

As we have done for the many years past, we solicit the patronage of farmers. As heretofore, our best efforts in their behalf can safely be relied upon. Our warehouse is open day and night, and provided with good, comfortable free quarters for teams and teamsters under the same roof.

Your Friends, KENDRICK-RUNYON TOBACCO WAREHOUSE COMPANY.

A METHOD.

When I used to go to school that was long ago. There was a most annoying boy that always seemed to be in the way. What the answer was, whatever the question changed to be. Never got confused and scared and worried, same as me. When the class was catched, he wore a smile most bland. And beat us all, he was so quick at holding up his hand. And when the teacher called on him, his memory might balk. But none the less he went ahead and made a life task. The teacher always helped him out, and never said he had failed. The interest he showed was such as could not be enough. And many a man grew powerful as a result in the land. By being quick to his feet, and holding up his hand. —Washington Star

An Anxious Night.

THE trouble began when Charles II. was the English king, when Maine was a part of the province of Massachusetts, when the city of Portland was the little town of Casco Neck—just 100 years before the first shot of the revolution.

Naturally the Indians resented the encroachments of civilization, but the final incentive to the outbreak known as "King Philip's war" is not definitely settled. Neither is the reason known why that chief chose to change the Indian name to "Philip". That does not matter. Certain it is, however, that after his death atrocities were committed by his followers for which he was not responsible.

At that time—1676—the territory lying between the Piscataqua and the Kennebec rivers was at the mercy of hostile Indians. The colonists found themselves outnumbered, outwitted and outgunned by enemies used to fighting under cover of the forest which was their home. In the summer of that year a farmer called Anthony Brackett, living at "Back Cove," on Casco Neck, lost a fine cow. He suspected that the neighboring band of Indians had taken it, and reported his loss to Simon, a chief of rather doubtful reputation, but who professed friendship. Simon agreed readily to discover the offender, and one morning he presented himself at the farm in company with several other Indians. "Here are fellows who killed your cow," he said. There upon the hand rushed into the house and seized the firearms and weapons of every kind. That Mr. Brackett did not give him up without remonstrance one may be sure; but Simon only answered: "So it must be," and informed him that they were all his captives, and that resistance meant death.

Of course, they chose the easier evil, and submitted with what patience was possible. Mr. Brackett's arms were securely bound to his side, but his wife was spared that painful ordeal because she was obliged to carry her baby. The father and mother were made a sort of pack-horse for the plunder which was taken. The children trotted along beside them. It was a sad and gloomy morning. The sun was hot and the path rough, as they slowly and wearily skirted the cove.

When they reached the north shore, they encountered another Indian band in high glee over the recent capture of a house on the Kennebec, well armed with powder and spirits. As they hoisted off their booty, Simon became impatient to share the prize. He began to regret the encombrance of his prisoners, who progressed very slowly. After consultation with his friends, therefore, Simon proposed to his captives that they follow by themselves, and leave them a part of the spoils if they would also bring the loads they were now carrying. He assured them that escape was impossible since the forest was infested with spies to prevent such an attempt. Mr. Brackett accepted the suggestion with eagerness, but his wife was more wary. She seemed reluctant to be left without an escort, and hesitated to close with the offer. Simon grew the more urgent, and finally consented to leave them some food and also to allow Jared to remain with them. Impatient to be gone, Simon hastily assented to this arrangement, and soon the sorry little family was left alone to pursue their way at their leisure.

They had not traveled very far when they came upon an old canoe, or rather the remains of a canoe, for many of its seams were gaping, and there were creaks in its sides. At first sight they hailed it joyfully as a means of escape, but upon examination the idea was given up. It had evidently belonged to a deserted house near by, in which the tired travelers were glad to rest awhile, and which had apparently been abandoned in haste. Traces of the former inmates were many. A pot still hung upon the crane over the dead embers. Unwashed dishes stood upon the dresser. A baby's shoe lay on the floor. Near a rude cradle was a table on which a woman's work-basket was overturned. Mrs. Brackett sighed, as she righted it mechanically, her thoughts far away. Suddenly she uttered a little cry. Here was the way of escape! She had found a needle and a skein of thread, and she could mend the old canoe. True, the needle was rusty, and the thread knotty—perhaps rotten; but at least there was the chance, and she could try.

No time was lost in beginning. Jared was sent to fetch the boat, with little Anthony and Beth to help him, while Mr. Brackett spliced a broken paddle which he had found, binding it securely with strips of birch bark freshly stripped from the trees, thus making it quite strong. Meantime Mrs. Brackett was about repairing the canoe. It was slow work, over and under, through and through, with neither thimble nor wax, her thread often breaking, she sewed and sewed till her fingers were sore, and thread all gone. A patch of fresh bark here and there covered yawning holes. Dolly she drew the seams together and made them fast by strips torn from her about petticoat. When her work was done, it was a canoe to conjure by, although it was not much to admire. While this was going on, the little girls amused the baby, and everybody was keeping a sharp lookout for a surprise.

A little supper was eaten, and when the canoe was ready the small company made its way to the shore. Even the children seemed to feel the responsibility of caution, as the father launched the frail boat and placed them in it. There was little to carry except human freight, but none of that could be left behind. The canoe must have been pretty low in the water, with its weight of three grown persons and five children, even though Kela was a baby. Eleanore began to cry when her father pushed them off before springing in himself, but Mary put her hand over her sister's mouth, realising the necessity of keeping quite still. The boat rocked and pitched a good deal at first with its shifting load and the unsteady stroke of the clumsy paddles. After a little, however, they were better able to adjust themselves to their cramped position, so as to balance the weight and make the journey easier.

In the dusk of that long summer day they embarked on a perilous voyage in the craziest craft that ever sailed, and in full view of any unfriendly eye that might chance to be in ambush on the shore. They did not talk much. They dreaded the very sound of the paddle, until they were out some distance from land. By that time tax tired and hungry children had fallen asleep, cuddled close together, for the night grew chill. The father and mother were anxious beyond the possibility of sleep, and the negro boy moaned in his troubled dreams.

Yet, in all that long and tedious night, with no signal lights to guide them, they crossed the wide stretch of water between Casco Neck and Black Point flat and distant of more than eight miles—and there is many a treacherous rock in that path—without a single mishap. The sun was up when the canoe grated on the sandy shallows of the beautiful bay. They were stiff and wet and famished, it did not matter now, for here was safety. But if you had known that the Indians had been at Black Point before them, and were but "newly gone," the courage of the voyagers must have failed. As it was, they landed in confidence, with grateful hearts, at a desolate settlement, to find a vessel which had providentially put in at Black Point had been way to Piscataqua, and on which they were received with a hearty welcome.

Here my tale ends. One often comes across the name Anthony Brackett in household mention in the pages of history, and it is recorded that there are descendants of those brave-hearted and resourceful pioneers still living in the city of Portland. Certain it is that the father of Anthony Brackett was also the great-great-great-grandfather of the late Hon. Thomas Brackett Reed—Little Chronicle

FAIRY TALES OF BENEFIT.

Writer Believes That Children's Parents Should Fill Them Full of These Stories.

It is very reasonable to argue that no creation of human fancy could last as fairy tales have lasted through so many thousands of years unless it was very good. For that which is not good and not sound must surely die, and only that which is good and sound shall last through the gridding of the ages.

So I have, says Howard Pyle, in Book News, that parents should fill their children's imaginations full of fairy tales if they would make those imaginations strong and healthy. As for that man or woman who has not these bright and joyous things of fancy flying like golden pens through the dim recesses of a child's mind, I can only say that I think his or her parents must have been neglectful of the earlier training of their child, and that I am sorry for that poor soul who has lost so much pleasure out of its life.

The Weather

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25. For Kentucky Fair and continued cold tonight. Thursday fair, not quite so cold in west portion.

The ninth annual exhibition of the State Poultry Association is in progress at Louisville this week and the show is said to be an unusually successful one. Pigeons and dogs are included in the exhibits.

The Democrats are about to lose Louisiana for Parker, on account of blunders in the Electoral College. Fortunately the loss of the state will not cut the figure it did in 1876, when Tilden was counted out.

Caleb Powers, the thrice convicted and still unhung assassin of Gov. Goebel, is to air his grievances against the laws which he has so successfully evaded for five years, in the February number of the Reader Magazine, of Indianapolis.

Jacob Hoch, a Chicago Bluebeard, is credited by the police with having had fourteen wives in the last ten years. Four died suddenly, under suspicious circumstances. Some were deserted, some died natural deaths and some have not been located. At least seven of the wives were widows with more or less money. Hoch has not been found.

They are mentioning Ben Ringo as a suitable successor to Congressman Dave Smith, in the Fourth district. The Owensboro Inquirer raises the question that he can't be spared from the office of Commonwealth's Attorney, in which he is making a record of hanging a murderer every court. Go it, Ben, we are for you for anything you want.

At the request of President Morán, the United States has assumed the office of protector of the republic of San Domingo. The United States will make no reservation of its right of intervention, and will adjust all the disputes, taking 10 per cent. of all settlements, and after Feb. 1. There is rumor that the United States will ask to be permanent protector.

Russia's troubles seem to be more than she can bear.

St. Petersburg is in a condition of panic with signs everywhere that the revolution is gaining in strength. Bombs are being thrown in several parts of the city, which resembles an armed camp, a great display of military force alone holding the mobs at bay. The strike spread to Moscow and several important industrial centers, and it is said that a general suspension of work is planned. Many persons are fleeing from the Russian capital to avoid danger in the threatened conflict. A high Russian official at Washington says the revolution will succeed and predicts the fall of the royal family.

Acting under the advice of Mr. Bryan, the 33 Democrats of the Senate will pledge their votes in a body to the President in his fight for railroad rate legislation. It is said 18 Republicans can be counted on.

He began life as a civil engineer and has been in the cabinet since 1892. He is the only man now the Czar can rely upon who is strong enough to oppose the grand dual clique. He may be proclaimed dictator.

DOSE OF ACID.

Large Quantity Taken by Miss Maggie Boyd.

Miss Maggie Boyd, an employee of the Hopkinsville Steam Laundry, swallowed a large quantity of carbolic acid Tuesday night. It is supposed with suicidal intent. She had on one or two occasions said that she intended destroying herself, but no one thought that she really had any intention of carrying out the threat.

When it was discovered that she had taken poison a physician was summoned and everything done to relieve her. She was thought to be better yesterday afternoon, though not out of danger.

Miss Boyd is about twenty-two years old. She has been living in Hopkinsville for some time and has relatives here. Her mother, who lives at Elizabethtown, arrived at her bedside yesterday morning. It is not known why she took the deadly draught.

POOR RUSSIA BLEEDS IN EVERY PORE

Revolution Rages and Panic Spreads to Many Cities.

EMPERESS FLEES.

Capital in Darkness and Dynamite is a Weapon of Destruction.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 25, 4 a. m.—The estimates of the number of killed or wounded Sunday very greatly. A majority of the victims were carried off by their comrades. Few of those taken to the hospitals have been reported. From a careful investigation 500 seems a reasonable estimate. The official account of the rioting, which by no means indicates the total killed or wounded, gives the following figures:
Putloff Works . . . . . 101
Alexander Gardens . . . . . 60
Molka District . . . . . 15
Vassili Ostroff district. . . . . 45

The strike has spread to Moscow, where workmen are marching from shop to shop, following the tactics of their fellows in this city. Workmen in several other cities, notably Kharkoff, where large locomotive works are located, have completed plans for a general suspension of work. The authorities threaten repressive measures wherever there is an attempt to repeat the St. Petersburg demonstration.

New York, Jan. 25.—A St. Petersburg dispatch yesterday to the Herald, described thus the spread of terror:

"The revolution has begun in earnest. As I write the capital is literally a city of dreadful night. All lights have been extinguished and the streets are in complete darkness. The tramp and clatter of soldiers armed to the teeth who patrol the streets mingle with the sounds of occasional shots and the detonation of dynamite and more sinister explosions has replaced with dynamite. Bombs Are Being Thrown.

Everywhere in the suburbs where there are villas and comfortable lodgings, bombs are being thrown.

A state of alarm prevails and orders have been issued that the people who leave their homes do so at the risk of being shot.

Many frightened inhabitants are fleeing from the city or barricading themselves in their homes. Others are marooned in hotels, but the strikers revolutionists, they may now be called—are gathering in the streets and the wildest rumors are circulated. Armed men are reported to be marching to their aid from various quarters.

Troops Are Beaten Back.

Twelve thousand strikers from the Caploff works, sixteen miles away, are stated to have beaten back a detachment of troops told off to deal with them and to be advancing on St. Petersburg.

A bomb has been thrown among a regiment of Cossacks near the Winter Palace and the revolutionists are hourly growing bolder. There seems every prospect of a great uprising, and this unhappy city is threatened with a reign of terror that may equal that of the French revolution.

The dowager empress, that relentless opponent of reform, who might parallel Louis XVI., has fled. The dynasty's one hope is the troops, who are still stanch. It is held in rebellion, with Satan trying to extinguish the fire with his hoofs.

Buys His Rival.

L. W. Gaines, of Guthrie, has purchased the lease and plant of the Courier from H. A. Garman, who retires from the newspaper field, with the customary reward of country editors large experience and small profit. Hereafter the "Hub of Two States" will have but one paper to support—Russellville Critic.

KNOWN IN BOSION

Visited America in 1901 as Delegate to Y. M. C. A. Celebration.

Boston, Jan. 25. Father Gopon, leader of the Russian revolt, was in Boston as a delegate to the fifth anniversary celebration of the Young Men's Christian Association in 1901. He was present at a reception given the delegates by Gov. Crane, and those who met the priest say that he was greatly impressed by the proceedings, especially the governor's action in shaking hands with those present.

He is described as a very energetic person, less than 30 years of age, and thoroughly aroused over the condition of the common people in his country. His name is said to be Agathon, the designation Gopon being assumed for political reasons. The priest displayed much interest in the affairs of this country, especially the police system and the popular freedom enjoyed in America.

RUSSIAN ADMIRAL

Describes the Closing Days of The Siege of Port Arthur.

Tokio, Jan. 25.—A Russian Admiral who has just joined the prisoners from Port Arthur, now in Japan, characterizes the surrender before the garrison had reached its extremity as a disgrace, bitterly criticises General Stoessel and lauds General Kondratenko as the true hero of the defense.

The Admiral says Vice Admiral Makaroff, who commanded the Russian squadron at Port Arthur and who went down with the battle ship Petropavlovsk, April 13 last, dictated the policy of inactivity on the part of the squadron, taking the ground that it would be hopeless, owing to the inferiority of the Russian naval strength, to engage the fleet of Vice Admiral Togo, and that it would be unwise to divide the force defending Port Arthur by running ships to Vladivostok or to neutral ports.

Bitter Strife In Citadel.

The Admiral admits that bitter friction existed between the army and the navy, and intimates that there is a probability of inquiry into this matter by court-martial. He insists that the Russians destroyed their own ships at Port Arthur because of the possibility of salvage by the Japanese.

Forced to Starve.

R. F. Leach, of Concord, Ky., says: "For 20 years I suffered agonies, and a sore on my upper lip, so painful sometimes, that I could not eat. After vainly trying everything else, I cured it with Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's great for burns, cuts and wounds. At R. C. Hardwick's drug store only 25c.

Dividend No. 4.

At a meeting of the directors of the Planters Hardware Co., a dividend of four per cent, was declared out of the net earnings for the six months ending Jan. 1, 1905, and payable at the office at said company.

The Office Declared Vacant
By the County Clerk

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 23. — Proceedings were instituted in the County Court by the Fidelity and Deposit Company, of Maryland, asking to be released as surety on the bond of Henry Dixon as Sheriff of Henderson county.

Dixon filed answer to the petition and tendered payment of the $300 fee. The plaintiffs demurred to the defendant's pleadings, which demurrer was sustained and the office of Sheriff was declared vacant. The petitioners make no specific charges. The County Court will now appoint to fill the vacancy.

Three Veins Coal.

On the Terry Coal and Coke Co. property of 1,000 acres. This property is joining the Empire Coal Co. lands at Empire, in this county. They have three distinct veins of coal, viz: "The Woodridge," "Empire" and "Terry," all of which can be worked in many places on the property by slope mines. The company already has three mines opened on the property—a R. R. spur track being surveyed and preparations being made to do a large business this year. It is estimated that the "Terry" trade alone will haul from the mines each year over one half million bushels of coal. For $10 in cash any stockholder in the company can buy at the mines the same amount of coal that will now cost him $25.69 at any station in the county. This fact becoming known, many consumers of coal have already applied to the Directory for stock in the company, requesting the books to be opened especially to Christian county people who may desire to take stock and buy their coal at the mines in the future or have it shipped to their station in car load lots over the L. & N. R. R.

To this request the company has responded and for a short time only invites every consumer of coal in the county to join in the enterprise and co-operate with the company by taking a small block of stock and placing their orders ahead for all the coal they may need during the year. The stock is offered to the people at a price that will not only pay them a fine dividend, but insure to them their coal at less than one-half the money it now costs at other places.

Every consumer in the county is invited to call at the office of the company, room 7, Odd Fellows' Building, Hopkinsville, Ky., for a full report of property and their offer to the people.

In the manual of examinations issued by the United States Civil Service Commission it is announced that nine examinations will be held during the coming spring.

The dates for the examinations and the places where they will be held are as follows:
 Lexington, March 15, 22, and April 19; Louisville, March 15, 23, 24 and April 19; Paducah, March 15 and April 19.

The Government needs in its service pressmen, stenographers, engineers, acting assistant surgeons, land clerks, kindergarten teachers, immigrant inspectors, trained nurses, translators, farmers, fish culturists, draftsmen, pharmacists, civil and electrical engineers, and persons proficient in almost any line.

According to a table compiled by the Civil Service Commission, Kentucky has not as many persons under the civil service as she is entitled to have. The State is entitled to 215, and at present she has but 200 in the service.

Mrs. Mary Garrett, of Canton, is visiting in this neighborhood. She and Miss Hattie Garrett spent today with Mrs. Dr. Rollow.

Miss Mattie Barker has been on the sick list, but is improving.

Miss Cornelia Green, of Hopkinsville, spent several days last week with Miss Maytie Barker.

Misses Clyde and Fannie Huffman, of Tennessee, spent several days with their brother-in-law, Ira Barber, this week.

Eso, Rollow, of Tennessee, left today, after spending several days with his son, Dr. Rollow.

Miss Lady Boone, of the Kennedy neighborhood, is visiting in Clarksburg this week.

Tom Fairleigh came down last Saturday and spent Sunday with E. R. Tandy.

Hart Caldwell and Henry Lupton spent Sunday with E. R. Tandy.

T. M. Barker, Jr., will soon have a store room erected and put in stock of goods at McKenzie.

Miss Allene Smith was in town today shopping.

Mr. T. M. Barker, Jr., does not go up the Bradshaw road now. His best horse has gone to Florida. He accompanied him as far as Nashville. Tom is always humming "When Spring Time Comes, Gentle Katie."

R. B. goes to see his best girl four nights in each week. He is making good use of his time while B. L. is in Nashville.

Ben Williams gave a birthday supper last week and invited a few of his intimate friends. I understand it was a very elegant supper. Ben was 37 years old.

We have two Rural Routes going out of Kennedy. Rollow Barker is carrier on No. 1, and T. M. Davis is carrier on No. 2. They are getting along nicely, making a good average of mail matter.

Mr. Joe Gray, of Hempstead, and Miss Cox, of Ringgold, Tenn., were married this afternoon at the home of the bride.

Tom Baynham sold five hogs that averaged 163 pounds.

Per-na Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio:
 Gentlemen:—The use of your Per-na as a remedy or cure for catarrh by many of my friends who have been benefited by the same, as well as my own experience as to its efficacy and good tonic properties, causes me to recommend it to all persons, and assure you that I have the endorsement and my photograph of it will prove true to you. J. M. Morgan.

 Mr. J. Emile Tanguay, No. 238 John St., Quebec, is Secretary of the Quebec Curling Club of Quebec, one of the leading sporting clubs in the city. His members are composed of young men of the best families. He writes:

"Last winter I caught a severe cold which developed into a severe case of catarrh of the head, affecting my hearing especially. My eyes ran, my system seemed to be generally clogged up. I was advised by a club friend to try Per-na, and did so at once. To my delight I found a change set in for the better within three days, and in eight days I was entirely well." J. Emile Tanguay.

Mr. Adolph Koehler, President of the North Side Turners' Club, writes from Clark and Leland Ave., Chicago, Ill.:
 "It is with pleasure that I endorse Per-na as a first-class medicine especially for catarrhal affections of the throat and lungs. I have used it with much benefit and several of my friends have been cured of catarrh entirely where Per-na was used."—Adolph Koehler.

C. P. Dorr, Hotel Johnson, Washington, D. C., Ex-Congressman from West Virginia, writes:

"I can cheerfully recommend Per-na to anyone who wants a safe and permanent cure for catarrh. For throat, lung and catarrhal trouble there is nothing better than Per-na."—C. P. Dorr.

Colds Lead to Chronic Catarrh.

A common cold is acute catarrh, which quickly becomes chronic catarrh if allowed to remain.

Every cold snap leaves in its trail thousands of cases of catarrh, many of whom for want of an effective remedy, will suffer from this disease the rest of their lives.

Is there anything that can be done to prevent all this?

In the first place, Per-na used at the proper time will prevent taking cold. In the second place, Per-na will cure a cold in from two to five days.

Again, Per-na will cure catarrh quickly in the first stages, and finally Per-na will also cure chronic catarrh, if used properly and persistently.

Per-na kept in the house and properly used will therefore not only act as a safeguard against the ailments which result from sudden cold waves, but will also prove a sure remedy for this class of ailments.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Per-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Per-na can be purchased at any first-class drug store for $1.00 per bottle. Address: Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanatorium, Columbus, O.

WAXING THE TOMB.

It is Now Being Coated with Paraffine Which is Expected to Stop Damage—How the Work is Done.

New York.—Fresh evidence that a man's own name is the most indestructible monument a man can raise is to be found in Gen. Grant's tomb, on Riverside drive. Built of the stoutest granite at a cost of nearly $500,000, it has been found advisable to coat a portion of the solid stone walls of the portico and gallery with paraffine wax, as was done with the obelisk 19 years ago, in order to protect the stone from disintegration and to stop the leaks which have developed. The same persons who coated the obelisk so effectively are doing the work. The tomb, which was the testimonial of the more than 90,000 persons who contributed to its construction, will be permitted to suffer injury if it is possible to prevent it. The tomb was dedicated less than eight years ago, and is one of the most costly tombs ever erected.

In the work now being done, the stone is warmed by means of a flat stove before the wax is applied, explains the Tribune of this city. This stove is a simple affair, being practically nothing more than a sheet-iron box, about two feet square and six inches deep. One side of the box is a wire screen. This retains the charcoal which is burned in the stove, and at the same time permits the free radiation of the heat upon the stone. The stove is suspended against the stone, whose pores are to be filled. It almost touches the stone, and is held there for two or three minutes. That is sufficient time to heat the stone to a depth of perhaps a quarter of an inch. Then melted paraffine wax is painted on the heated surface with a brush. It soaks into the stone to the depth to which the stone has been heated, filling all the interstices between the crystals of the rock. Great care has to be taken not to heat the stone unnecessarily, as only a small portion can be heated at one time. Uneven expansion of the stone might crack it to crack. A square yard can be treated in a quarter of an hour. The work now being done on the tomb will cost $250.

There are about 8,000 tons of granite in the tomb. This was carefully examined by professors of mining schools and members of the United States engineering corps and chemists before it was accepted, and all the tests were passed. When the stone was set in the wall, owing to the danger of settling. Each stone, after being laid, was allowed to lie some time before another was laid upon it, in order to make certain that it would not shift its position in the slightest degree. The tomb is 90 feet square and 100 feet high. A considerable amount of marble was used in the interior. Several slabs of this new stone which look like rusted iron. It is said that these disappear and reappear again at different seasons of the year, and that they are due to moisture in the walls. Up to the present time none of the methods tried have been effective in eliminating them. The slabs may have to be replaced. Until this year no effort has been made to heat the tomb in the winter. This year, with the idea that it may have a beneficial effect upon the stone, several radiators have been put in. Heretofore in the spring moisture has appeared on the walls so thick that it was possible to wipe it off with the hand.

Boiling Point of Water.
According to the elevation above sea level in London water boils practically at 212 degrees Fahrenheit; in Munich, Germany, at 206 degrees; in the City of Mexico at 200 degrees, and in the Himalayas, at an elevation of 18,000 feet above the level of the sea, at 180 degrees. These differences are caused by the varying pressure of the atmosphere at these points. In London the whole weight of the air has to be overcome. In Mexico, 1,000 feet above the sea, there is 7,000 feet less of atmosphere to be resisted; consequently less heat is required, and boiling takes place at a lower temperature.

Modern Plagues.
The English Church Missionary society calls attention to the fearful ravages of pestilence in several countries in which its agents are at work. In Uganda the sleeping sickness has desolated Buganda and the northern shores of Victoria lake and is fast depopulating the Bese islands. The plague in the Punjab has been claiming as many as 30,000 victims a month, while cholera, which has laid thousands low in Palestine, is now raging in Persia.

ICE YACHTING IS POPULAR.

The Sport Is Making Rapid Strides in the Northwest States and in Canada.

Minneapolis.—Ice-yachting is extremely popular on the frozen rivers and lakes of our northern states, and in Canada.

It was in 1861 that the first regular club was organized, and since that time many clubs have been organized. The hull portion of an ice yacht is quite simple, consisting of two pieces

On the center-timber the mast is stepped, the fore and part center-timber is the bowsprit of the aft part carrying the box and runner post. The runner plank is a stout timber from 14 feet to 28 feet long, tapering in thickness toward the ends, to which the runners are attached. The biggest yachts will weigh 3,000 pounds. Some of them have a sailing area of over 1,000 square feet. They travel a mile in 2:08.

Sleeping in Life-Preservers.
"Passengers on ocean liners may soon be able to sleep in life-preservers, if the plans of E. Salvator, a New York inventor, do not go awry," says the Associated Press. "To sleep with a cork jacket on is out of the question, so the inventor decided to make a preserver that would become effective only by its coming in contact with the water. It works on the principle of a water-gasometer gas which fills a belt and gives it buoyancy. Uninflated, the belt is a light thing, which would hardly be felt, if worn by a sleeper, but when filled with gas it is blown up to the size of an ordinary cork life preserver. The belt is made of rubber, and is about eight inches wide and can be blown up by means of a small cylinder. In this cylinder is placed a composition of acids which, when acted upon by water, instantly inflates the belt. The belt has been tested in the ocean, and has been found to be the best thing upon the acids and inflates the rubber in less than three seconds. The ingredients in this composition Mr. Salvator keeps secret."

Howard Jones is not having much money just now. He is building a new wall around his Long Island home which will cost $1,000,000. His new abode cost $250,000 and he has spent $100,000 and the new Killarney castle will cost $5,000,000.

Next to the actual bacteria of disease, the mosquitoes and flies are the most dangerous enemies of man. The mosquito, with its life in its legs, and other fatal troubles. The fly, with its stinging legs, causes the germs of disease, spreads them over our food and poisons us with typhoid, cholera and other plagues of the human race.
GOOD RED BLOOD OUT AMMUNITION.
The blood which flows through our veins and arteries should contain healthy red blood corpuscles which are capable of warding off the attack of the disease germs if they get into the system.
Dr. Pierce, the eminent physician of Buffalo, N. Y., says, "If each person will consider his system as an army of men which he controls as a general, and will see to its proper provisioning and that it has plenty of ammunition in the shape of good red blood, he will be able to resist the enemy and escape the danger of the germs of disease." Every healthy person has five million red blood cells or corpuscles to every square millimeter of blood. The number of red blood corpuscles in the average human being is so great that it is almost incomprehensible. However, their number

WELL MAY REPUBLICANS TREMBLE.

Colored Brethren Are Organizing a St. Petersburg Revolution.

NIGHTLY MEETINGS.

Demand for a Primary is Being Pressed By Determined Voters.

Another large gathering of disgruntled colored voters was held at John O. Chafin's store Monday night and adopted still further resolutions demanding a primary election at the hands of the Republican committee. Speeches were made by George Gray, W. T. Johnson, Andrew Payne, Tule Volland, Henry Powell, James Jones and W. H. Lander. Some of the speeches were very stirring talks and met with enthusiastic approval.

Another meeting was held at the same place Tuesday night and the movement is expected to gain strength until the committee will not dare to provoke a "Russian Revolution" by refusing the petitions of the voters who are expected to do 80 per cent. of the voting. The colored people seem determined for once to assert themselves, and it is no wonder that some of the candidates are losing interest in the contest for nominations.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Allan D. Wallis, at Wynante, Pa., one day this week.
